

It is possible that unexploded ordnance can be found anywhere on military training lands. If you find anything you believe might be ordnance do not touch. Flag the area and GPS the location if possible, and call Range Control at 353-1266 on Ft. Wainwright and 873-4714 for the Donnelly and Gerstle River Training Areas.

Ft. Wainwright requires off road vehicle operators to wear a helmet and eye protection. All passengers and boat operators are required to wear a personal floatation device. Loaded firearms can be carried on an ORV and within a boat as long as there is not a live round under the firing pin.

Ft. Wainwright training lands are open to all users on an equal basis when training is not occurring. No permanent structures including tent frames or tree stands are allowed. Please remove all your equipment and trash when leaving the field.

For questions concerning hunting within Alaska call your nearest ADF&G office. For questions concerning hunting within the Donnelly and Gerstle River Training Areas call the Natural Resources office at 873-1616/1615 and on Ft. Wainwright call 361-9686. Contact the Department of Army Police at 353-7535.

USARTRAK brochure maps are not provided for navigational purposes and are intended to be viewed in the original color format. It is the visitors responsibility to ensure they recreate in areas open to recreation. Recreation is not allowed in impact areas and off-limit areas.

Dear GMU 20 draw hunt winners,

A significant percentage of draw hunt winners have drawn for hunts that are located within military training lands. Several Interior draw hunts are located on military training lands within GMU 20A, 20B, and 20D. Popular military training lands hunting areas include the Tanana Flats Training Area, Yukon Training Area, Donnelly East and West Training Areas, and Gerstle River Training Area. These training areas are open for recreation including hunting. If you wish to hunt on military lands there are some access restrictions and safety requirements you need to be aware of that are outlined inside this brochure, within the US Army Outdoor Recreation Regulation Supplement, and at www.usartrak.com.

From time to time the Army has to close training areas to all recreation to meet its first need to train its soldiers. Military training exercises will result in access restrictions and closures to areas for all recreation including hunting. Training will take place during the fall hunting seasons for the Yukon Training Area and Donnelly East and West Training Areas.

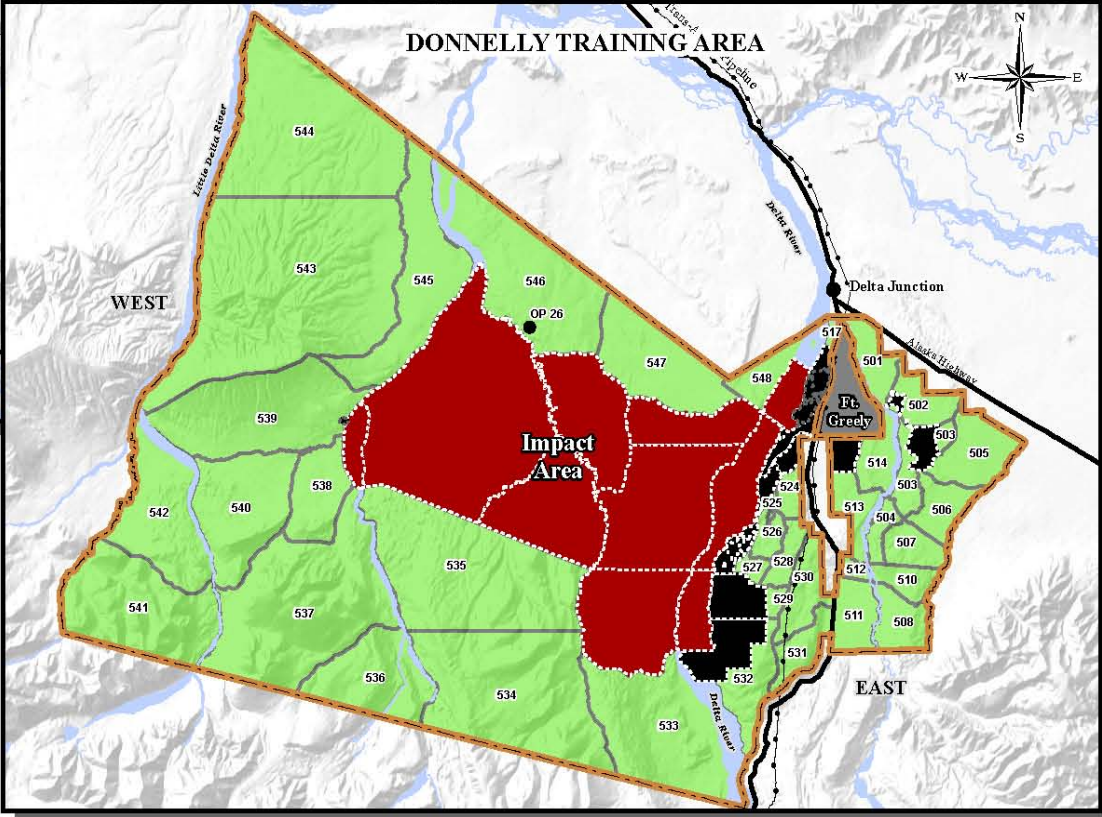

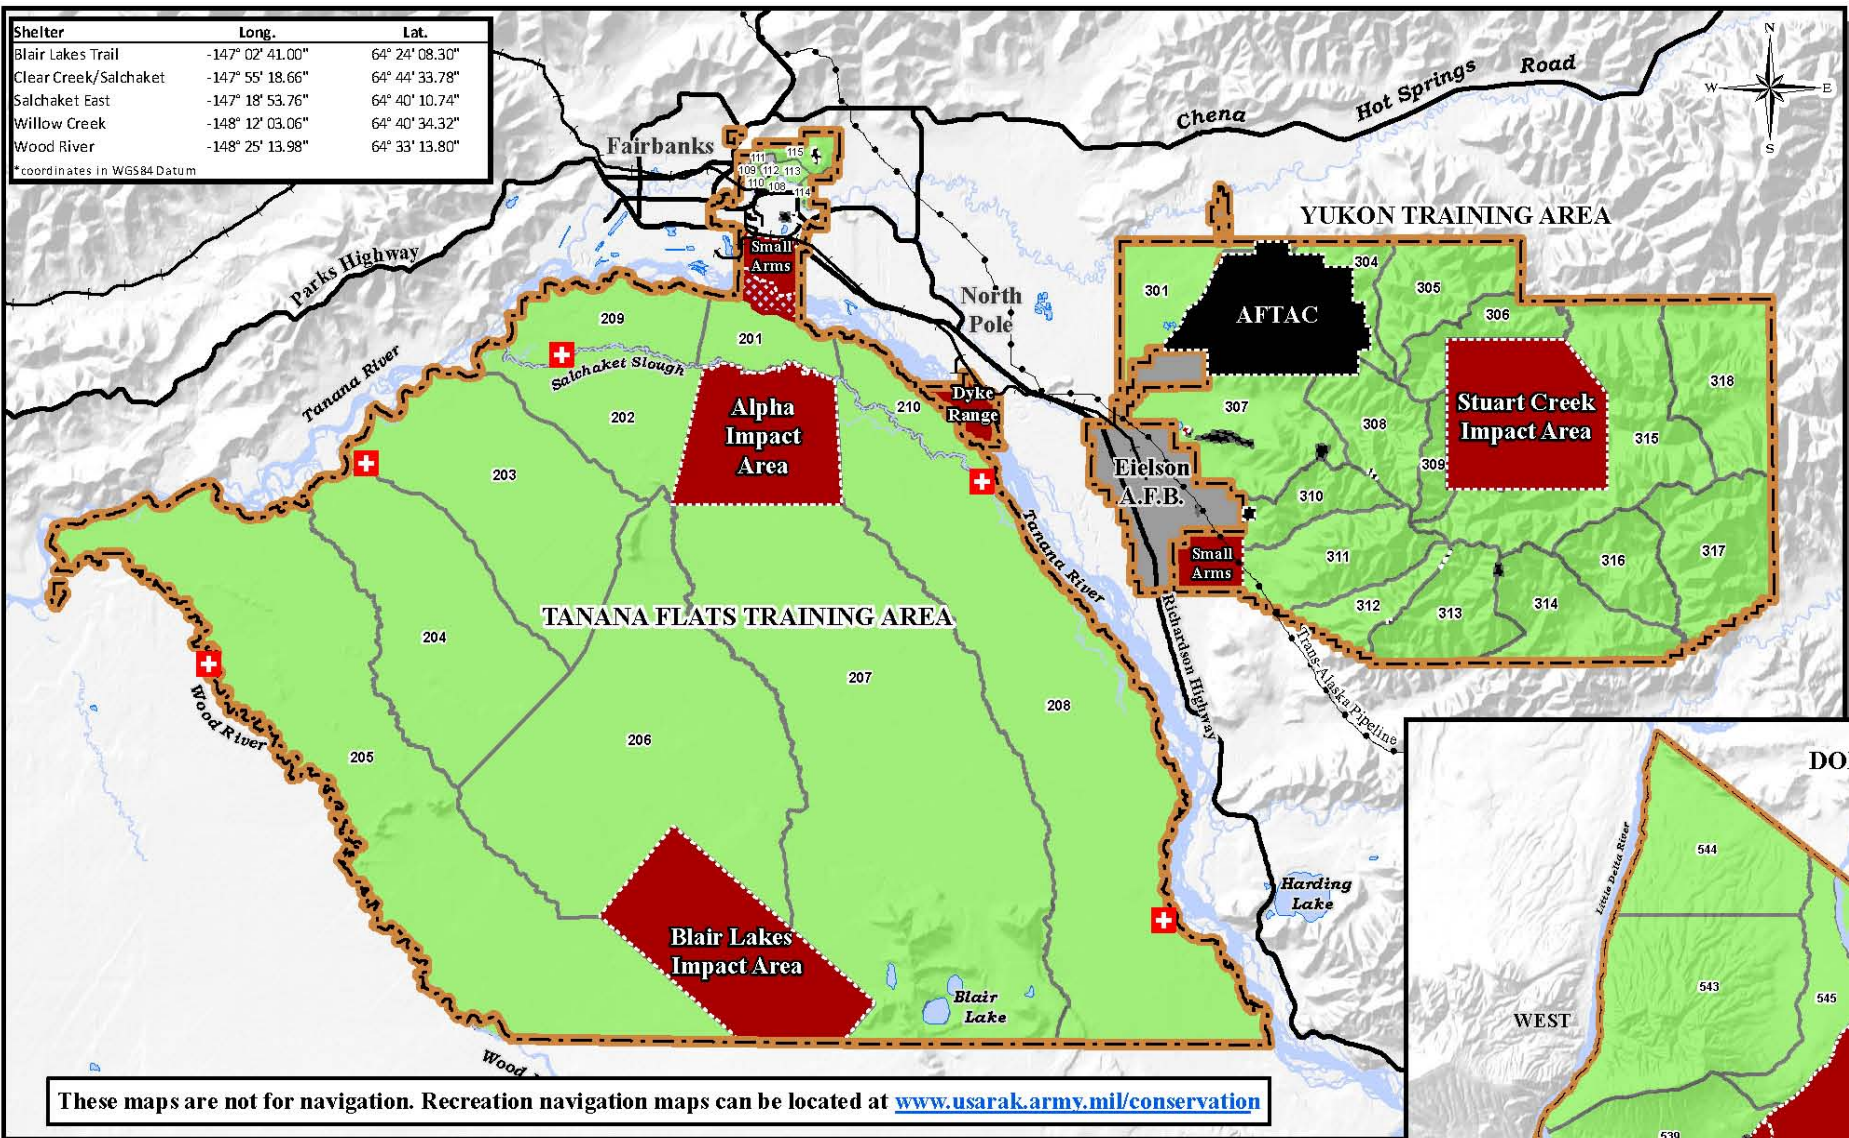

To ensure the safety of individuals recreating on military training lands and meet training requirements the Army requires all persons 16 years of age or older to have in their possession a Recreation Access Permit and to check into a training area by calling the US Army Recreation Tracking System (USARTRAK). When calling USARTRAK you will be informed of training area openings/ closings due to training. You can obtain a free Recreation Access Permit at www.usartrak.com or at the Main Gate Visitor Centers on Ft. Wainwright and Ft. Greely. The Visitor Center on Ft. Wainwright is open M-F 6:00 am to 9 pm and 8 am to 5 pm on weekends. The Visitor Center on Ft. Greely is open during the summer M-F from 6 am to 3 pm. Ft. Wainwright regulations relating to outdoor recreation and hunting can be obtained at the Visitor Centers at Ft. Wainwright and Ft. Greely or obtained on line at the above website. The USARTRAK map and information is printed on the back of this brochure.

Within military training lands there are areas that are always closed to all forms of recreation. These areas include impact areas, small arms ranges, and military structures and towers. A complete list and location of closed areas can be found in the Recreation Supplement and on the previously mentioned website. Detailed recreation/navigation maps, recreation information, and Recreation Access Permits can also be obtained at www.usartrak.com. Please visit this website.
